In their commercial report, dated the 17th inst., Messrs. Behre & Co., of Saigon, thus report with reference to the rice market.—The tenor of their report during the period under review has been, that the market prices for purchases have been made for China, but are apparently insufficient to cover requirements, which have shown some important fluctuations. The market closed rather flat at $1.46 for best average quality, and $1.45 for common grain.

The court was formally opened yesterday morning, and the trials of the Chinese, but there were no cases so complicated and of long duration as to require trial by a panel of three judges, and the latter had been committed for trial on a charge of robbery at Kowloon, but as it was found the offence had been committed in Chinese territory and the court had consequently no jurisdiction, the prisoners were handed over to the military authorities to be dealt with by court martial.

They (Academy) hear that Mr. Henry Cottam, a Ceylon planter, in the company of another Englishman, made a useless attempt to explore a new overland route from India to China. The party started from Assam, and reached the frontier of Yunnan through the Chinese provinces of Yunnan through the Kweichow and Szechuan country, and across the Irawaddy. They were unfortunately brought to a standstill mainly through the failure of the provisions for their native followers.

received from the new port is to the effect that the natives have proceeded to make further demonstrations of ill-will to the foreigners. They have, it is reported, pulled down the house tenanted by the members of the "Inland Mission," and have mobbed and stoned the foreigners, who were compelled to take refuge in their boats. This is a most unfortunate commencement of foreign intercourse with this inland port, and it is to be regretted that it should have occurred. It is very obvious, however, that neither the foreigners nor the officials were to blame for the first misapprehension. Nor can the people be very severely condemned for their action, when they thought they were about to be repelled by those who had appointed them to the ill-fated ship.

The abandoned items are taken from the Lion and China Express of the 9th ultimo:

The Rangoon, homeward bound from the Chitwan, arrived at Suez on the 7th February.

The Great Northern Telegraph Company's traffic receipts for the month of January were this year $16,555, last year $27,252.

The Tamar, trooper, was to be despatched about the end of February with relays for the time-expired news on the China Station.

A large number of civil engineers has been appointed to take part in the construction of the harbour works in the vicinity of Estavia.

The Miss Marion, from Cardiff, for Hongkong, which put in to Dartmouth early and with other damage, in January, has sailed for her destination.

The amount of billion per cent. of the Amur reported to the Admiralty on the 2nd February is £1,000,000 to £1,200,000 in silver, to £2,000,000 in gold.

The traffic receipts of the Eastern Extension Australian, and Olsen Telegraph Company (Limited), for the month of January, 1877, amounted to £24,187, against £20,405 for January, 1876. The China Telegraph Company's traffic receipts for the month of January, 1877, amounted to £2,035, against £17,539 in the corresponding period of 1876.

The total quantity of tea delivered from the bonded warehouses in London for the week ended the 20th ult. was 23,471,627 lbs., which compared with 23,829,214 lbs. for the preceding week.

The Ward, a steamer of 2,339 tons, was for home consumption, 704,752 lbs., was removed seawards, 273,400 lbs., was sent coastwise for exportation, 219,535 lbs., was exported, and 26,118 lbs. was for ship stores.

The duty received during the same period amounted to £1,000,000, while the exportation of tea in silver for the month of January was £1,000,000.

The latest mail advised home were—

Yokohama, December 19th, Shanghai 22nd, Foochow 25th, Manila 25th, Hongkong 25th, Batavia 26th, Singapore January 4th Galle 10th, the two copies on remand charged with being suspicious characters, having been found on board the Keweenaw, with knife at night, same on again, and the prisoners were called on to find security in £5 each for one month.

Wong Atuk, a shoemaker, was charged by Choi-Akin, head coolie in a coal godown, Pei-Yang, with entering with picking his pocket of a silver watch at the Pei-Yang. The charge was proved, the watch was found in the sleeve of the prisoner, and he was sent to three months' hard labour.

WONG ATUK, a shoemaker.

Chin Aung, a rice vendor, was charged by Choi-Akin, head coolie in a coal godown, Pei-Yang, with entering with picking his pocket of a silver watch at the Pei-Yang. The charge was proved, the watch was found in the sleeve of the prisoner, and he was sent to three months' hard labour.

WONG ATUK, a shoemaker.

The remanded case, in which Lau Asan and two other coolies were charged on suspicion of being in the roof of a house in Tan-land for an unlawful purpose, came on again, and the prisoners were sent to two months' hard labour as罚罪犯 and vagabonds.

WONG ATUK, a shoemaker.

Chin Aung, a rice vendor, was charged by Inspector Matheson, stationed at Show-ke-wan, with being a suspicious character.

The Inspector said a report had been made to him that a burglary had been committed at Show-ke-wan the 27th February, and would reach London on the 10th, two days early. The next inward (French) mail, with a week's later arrival, came on the 5th February, the day before the charge was advanced.

Wong Atuk, a shoemaker, was charged by Inspector Matheson, stationed at Show-ke-wan, with being a suspicious character.

Mr. GUNDRY thanked the Chairman for his explanation, and had much pleasure in proposing "That Messrs. A. J. Bow, J. Wilson and E. Gipperich be elected Directors for the current year."

Mr. G. W. HARRIS seconded, and the motion was adopted.

Mr. PATTERSON next proposed—"That Mr. Rivington and E. Gipperich be elected auditors for the current year."

Mr. WILSON seconded.

The usual compliment to the Chairman for presiding closed the proceedings.—N. O. Dally.

SHANGHAI.

A hawk correspondent writes that the Hankow is reported to be still badly ashore about 40 miles below Ichang.—No news has been received of Mr. King and his party or of their intended movements.—The Morocco, with the U.S. Consul on board, was to leave for Ichang on the 14th ult.

A notification from H. M. Chargé d'Affaires at Peking has been published to the effect that the Chinese Government have given information that the ports of Ichang, Wu-hu, Wuchow and Pakhoi will be opened to foreign trade on the 1st April, and that officers of H. M. Consul Services have been authorized to act temporally as Consuls at those places from and after the above date.

The Ostend arrived at Ichang on the 1st April, and the Dragon on the 2nd April.

In acknowledging receipt of the Amur news, we are informed that the man whose son was born to him, and whose daughters were carried away, was a Chinese who had been some thing about the girls, and that an American named Wong-Tak Cheong could get them back. He therefore informed his old master and afterwards came to Show-ke-wan. He gave $70 to Wong-Tak Cheong and the girls were restored to him. He went off in the steam ferry boat and apprehended him.

The prisoner said that he was born at Ichang, and his son was born to him, and he had been captured by the rebels.

We are informed that Dr. L. Dudgeon, of the Medical Military Staff, will take his departure for China about the middle of March. Since he has been home he has done much service in the Novelties Iron Works, was summoned for obstruction, was remanded, and the court adjourned to the 1st April.

The remanded case, in which the proprietor of the Novelties Iron Works was summoned for obstruction, was remanded, and the court adjourned to the 1st April.

The Amur has been remanded to the 1st April.

Mr. GUNDRY thanked the Chairman for his explanation, and had much pleasure in proposing "That Messrs. A. J. Bow, J. Wilson and E. Gipperich be elected Directors for the current year."

As instance of what may be expected from the C. M. S. C. N. C., that the King-kiang arrived at the 2nd ult. with 1,000 men, and equal equipments, and the Dragon at the 3rd ult. with 1,000 men, and equal equipments, and the Appin at the 4th ult. with 1,0

Extracts.

A LETTER OF ADVICE.

You tell me you're promised a lover,
My own Araminta, next week;
Why cannot my fancy discover
The right one to suit and fit her?
Alas! if she had not her check!
A sleek, a buxom, a bonny,
Be deaf to your father and mother;
My own Araminta, say "No!"

Miss Lane, at her Temple of Fashion,
Taught us both how to sing and to speak,
And we loved you another with passion;
Before we had been there a week;
You'd run away, if I'd let you;
I was it when I got you,
I gave you a chain — is it broken?
My own Araminta, say "No!"

O think of your favorite extract,
And think of our dear "Jalla Roselli,"
How we shared with the milkmen their bottle,
And the bottle of beer from the brew;

How fondly our wine-glass toller,
What father con-gratulations have!

My heart's the same — yours cleared.
My own Araminta, say "No!"

Remember the hainty romances
We read on the haint in the plen;

Remember the suttur our haints had,

With the pale yellow on their shoulder,
They're very hainty and pitiful like.

They're very hainty and pitiful like.

Sweet friend, are you wiser or collar?

My own Araminta, say "No!"

You know where Lord Rigaund's carriage
Drove off with your cousin Justice.

You kept Justice girl in the mornin'.

And the world has been here since 'em!

You said you were sure it would kill you.

If ever your husband looked so,

And you will not apostasize — will you?

My own Araminta, say "No!"

When I heard I was going abroad, love

I thought I was going to die;

We looked him in the eye to the sky;

He's here! off to the Po,

Forzò not Melos Treviun;

My own Araminta, say "No!"

We parol! but sympathy's letters

Reach over valley and hill;

I am for you, cry out,

And the world is still with me, love —

The cleast of treasure below —

If he's not what Orlando should be, love,

My own Araminta, say "No!"

It wears a top-loft in his woon,

If he comes to you riding a cob,

It's all the same, if he sits on his lob,

If he ever drinks port after dinner,

If his brow or his beeding is low,

If he calls himself "Thompson" or "Skinner,"

My own Araminta, say "No!"

If he's seen a tolop in his woon,

If he comes to you riding a cob,

It's all the same, if he sits on his lob,

If he ever drinks port after dinner,

If he calls himself "Thompson" or "Skinner,"

W. M. PEAK.

A TORY OF FICTION.

If ever there was a Tory, upon earth, the Frau Frohmann was a Tory; for I hope that landed possessions, gentle birth, and advanced to the Church of England, are not necessarily the distinguishing marks of Toryism. The Frau Frohmann was a woman who loved power, but who loved to use it for the benefit of those around her, or, at any rate, to think that she used it. She believed in the principles of deposition and paternal government, but always on the understanding that she was to be the despot. In her heart she disliked education, thinking that it unfitted the minds of her bumble brethren for the duties of their lives. She hated, indeed, all changes — changes in customs, changes in hours, changes in cookery and changes in furniture; but of all changes she perhaps hated changes in prices the most. Gradually there had come over her a melancholy conviction that the world cannot go on altogether undivided. There was she left, a fate in things — necessity which, in some dark way within her own mind, she connected with the fall of Adam, and the general infidelity of humanity — which demanded changes, but they were always changes for the worst; and, therefore, though to those around her she was mostly silent on this matter, she was afflicted by a general idea that the world was going on towards ruin. All that things throw with herself was not sufficient for her comfort; for, being a good woman with a large heart, she was anxious for the welfare not only of herself and of her children, but for that of all who might come after her, at any rate in her own locality. Thus, when she found that there was a tendency to dine at one instead of twelve, to wear the same clothes on week-days on Sundays, to desire easy chairs, and linens that should be bleached absolutely white, thoughts as to the failing condition of the world would get the better of her and make her melancholy. These traits are perhaps the evidences of the weakness of Toryism; but then, Frau Frohmann also had all its strength. She was thoroughly pervaded by a determination that, as far as in her lay, all that had ought to do with herself should be "well-to-do" in the world. It was a grand ambition in her mind that every creature connected with her establishment, from the oldest and most time-honoured, gazed down to the last stray cat that had taken refuge under her roof, should always have enough to eat. Hunger, unsatisfied hunger, disagreeable hunger, on the part of any dependent of hers, would have been a reproach to her. Her own eating troubled her little or not at all, but the cooking of the establishment generally was a great care to her mind. Of bonds, written bonds, her neighbour knew not much; but her word for twenty miles round was as good as any bond. And though she was a little apt to domineer in her bairns, she was not so much as to have shamed the price and to resent opposition — it was only to the strong that she was tyrannical. The poor sick widow, and the little orphan could generally deal with her at their own rates on which occasions she would endeavour to hide her feelings — from her own people, and would give injuriously to the favoured ones that she showed — she was well founded. Rather, he was sent in a flat boat, freighted with cattle, pigs, poultry, corn, and other produce, the whole being in charge of Amos Riley, jun. Henson fed out that he also was to be put up for sale, a specimen verified by the event. His horror at the facts stated in the case was great, and sure the proceeds were but too well founded.
